It's coming!

The biggest thing to hit Reenascreena since... well, since last year's extravaganza... is on its way.

The Reenascreena Crossroads Arts Festival 2006 will finish on Sunday 25th June this year... what we don't know yet is when exactly it will be starting.

Got a suggestion for the festival programme or want to get involved? Let us know by posting to the festival topic in the Reenascreens Online Forum.

There'll be old favourites like "The Reenascreena Trail": a guided evening walk around the area with historian Fachtna O'Callaghan. There'll be traditional music and dancing, drama and recitation. There'll be contemporary music by an eclectic mix of local artists and visiting musicians. There'll be pig roasting, road bowling, and fascinating new twist to the annual Reenascreena Derby.

In short, for a weekend full of all manner of merriment make sure you block book your diary and head for Reenascreena on the last weekend in June.....

We'll see you there!
